About KDA

Founded in 1960, the Kenya Dental Association (KDA) is the sole professional body representing registered dentists in Kenya. For more than six decades, KDA has served as the unifying voice of the dental profession, advancing the science and practice of dentistry while championing oral health for a healthier nation. As a non-political and non-religious professional society registered under the Societies Act, KDA brings together dentists, dental schools, regulators, industry partners, and development organizations to strengthen professional standards and improve oral healthcare across the country.

Through active engagement with government institutions, the Kenya Medical Practitioners and Dentists Council, and international organizations such as the Fédération Dentaire Internationale (FDI) and the Commonwealth Dental Association, KDA continues to position Kenya within the global dental community.

Guided by its Strategic Plan 2026–2030, KDA is evolving into a modern, professionally governed, and financially sustainable institution focused on membership growth, advocacy, continuous professional development, and institutional excellence. The Association remains committed to protecting the integrity of the profession while promoting accessible, high-quality oral healthcare for all Kenyans.

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

It gives me great pleasure, on behalf of the Kenya Dental Association, to welcome you to this important gathering of dental professionals, researchers, educators, industry leaders, and partners committed to advancing oral healthcare.

As the dental profession continues to evolve, opportunities to learn, collaborate, and share knowledge have become more important than ever. This conference represents more than a scientific meeting. It is a platform for strengthening professional unity, building new partnerships, reconnecting with colleagues, and shaping the future of dentistry together.

Kenya's dental profession has grown tremendously over the years through the dedication of practitioners, institutions, and professional bodies working together to improve standards of care and expand access to oral healthcare. Today, we stand at an exciting moment where innovation, research, technology, and collaboration are opening new possibilities for our profession and the communities we serve.

We are honoured to host you in Kenya, a country known for its rich culture, warm hospitality, breathtaking landscapes, and vibrant professional community. Beyond the scientific sessions and exhibitions, we hope you will take time to experience the beauty, diversity, and spirit of our nation.

We invite you to join us as we explore new ideas, discover emerging trends in dentistry, and create meaningful connections that will continue long after the conference concludes.

We look forward to welcoming you and ensuring your experience with us is both professionally enriching and personally memorable.

Warm regards,

Dr. Kahura Mundia,
President, Kenya Dental Association

Kenya

Kenya is a country where landscapes, cultures, and traditions flow together in remarkable harmony. From the snow-capped peaks of Mount Kenya to the vast savannahs of the Maasai Mara, from the shores of the Indian Ocean to the Great Rift Valley, Kenya offers a rich tapestry of beauty, history, and diversity that leaves a lasting impression on all who visit.

Landscape, like music, speaks a universal language. In Kenya, every region tells a story shaped by history, community, and tradition. Ancient trade routes along the Swahili Coast, vibrant urban centres, traditional villages, wildlife conservancies, and modern innovation hubs together create a unique national identity that reflects both heritage and progress.

For centuries, Kenya has stood at the crossroads of cultures, ideas, and commerce within Africa and beyond. More than forty communities, each with distinct traditions, languages, and customs, contribute to the nation's dynamic cultural fabric. This diversity is reflected in Kenya's art, cuisine, music, architecture, and spirit of hospitality.

Visitors to Kenya experience more than a destination — they experience energy, warmth, resilience, and possibility. It is a country where nature, history, innovation, and human connection exist side by side, creating unforgettable experiences and meaningful encounters.

As you join us for this important gathering of dental professionals, we invite you to discover not only Kenya's growing leadership in healthcare and professional development, but also the extraordinary beauty and spirit that make our country truly unique.
